

ABSTRACT:

The present invention relates to isolated genetic sequences encoding proteins which direct the biosynthesis of the antibiotic ramoplanin in microorganisms. The isolated biosynthetic gene cluster serves as a substrate for bioengineering of antibiotic structures.